

19. In die tribulationis meæ

*In die tribulationis meæ renuit consolari anima mea, et anticipaverunt vigilias oculi mei, præ lachrimis turbatus sum, et non sum locutus,
et meditatus sum nocte cum corde meo, et exercitabar et scopebam spiritum meum.
Hæc omnia initia fuerunt dolorum meorum.*

In the day of my trouble my soul could not be comforted, my eyes were unable to sleep, I was troubled with tears, and I did not speak,
and I communed in the night with my heart, and I tested and searched out my spirit.
All these were the beginnings of my sorrows.

Based on Psalm 76:3, 5, 7 and Matthew 24:8
